U. F. Drive Off To Flying Start In North Milam

Group leaders and workers in the United Fund drive will beat a path to every doorway in every community in North Milam County next week.

Robert Nelson, chairman of the house to house campaign, stated that Drayton McLane was appointed to the post of group chairman and will, in turn, name the group captains in the various towns. They will select their own workers.

The house to house campaign will begin in Cameron next week, according to Mr. McLane, with the drives in all the communities to be concluded prior to the 14th.

No goal has been set for this portion of the campaign. McLane said all workers will just work toward meeting the final goal of $13,674.

Drive officials added that every person donating to the United Fund will be given a red feather, which will also let them know that the solicitor is working for the campaign.

All of the following towns will be included in the drive, and get the benefit of the fun. The towns are Cameron, Buckholts, Burlington, Marak, Ad Hall, Yarrellton, Clarkson, Ben Arnold, Briary, Baileyville, North Elm, Maysfield, Jones Prairie, Marlow, Hanover and Silver City.

Henry Siebman reports that the Special Gifts committee, of which he is chairman, has been reporting in at a fast clip with very good results.

Dean White was the first member of the committee to report in 100 percent.

Drayton McLane, head of McLane Wholesale Grocery and president of Cameron Chamber of Commerce is shown getting a red feather pinned on his lapel by Henry Siebman, chairman of the United Fund special gifts committee. McLane is also a campaign chairman and by tripling his 1955 gift to Community Chest he is setting an example for all whom he hopes realize that the U.F. is a "Once For All" drive.

Colored Man Suffers Stab Wounds Dec. 1

Bubba Blaylock, colored, of Cameron was taken to St. Edwards Hospital shortly after 2 a.m. Saturday, December 1, suffering from stab wounds in the left lung and in the back. His condition Wednesday morning was reported as "very serious."

Marek-Burns Funeral Home ambulance carried the injured man to the hospital. The ambulance run was made after Bill Burns was notified that a injured man had fell on the front porch of a colored residence located just behind the Alcoa Inn.

House To House Volunteers Need Of U. F. Drive

House to house canvassers in the United Fund Drive under Chairman Drayton McLane have been asked to meet at the Yoe High School Monday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m.

McLane said Wednesday that he has a nucleus of workers but that it is his desire to have a large number of volunteers present for the meeting.

It is hoped that the drive will wind up this week and be over the top McLane said.

Cameron Jaycees, Stores, Banks Pace Yuletide Season With Season's Decor

Stores around town are showing an interest in the Santa Claus season and are putting in decorative reminders that this is the season of giving.

Both banks have attractive displays with the First National coming out with a mammoth snowman and elfins in the front part of the bank so that even passersbyers may see the attractive reminder that this is the season, even if the weather might be warm, for snow and the perennial, if mythical, White Christmas.

Christ in the manger with his attendants at that first Christmas is the scene so elaborately displayed on a platform built over the entrance to the vault at the Citizen's National Bank and set to the traditional Christmas music.

Those who do not feel the spirit of the yuletide sufficiently from the street decorations should, by all means plan to visit one of the banks if only to view the displays.

Kids See Santa Friday, Buses To Run Late

School will dismiss at the regular time on Friday, (tomorrow) so that the children may see the downtown Cameron Santa Claus parade and talk with the old Saint in person on the Courthouse lawn.

Notices went out this week to parents of students living on the rural routes telling them that the busses will be late (approximately one hour).

Buses will pick the children up at the regular time and place and bring them to town. They will see the parade, or perhaps play in one of the marching bands and then return to the bus for their trip home.

Both Yoe High and O. J. Thomas bands will be in the parade.

Trash Burners Will Be Fined

Burning of trash within the city limits of Cameron will be a fineable offense from $10 to $100 after a trash and garbage ordinance is passed.

City Attorney Bill Black was authorized to draft the ordinance to include a fifty cent fee to be collected on the water bill for single family residences which will entitle the owner to pickup service on a weekly basis.

Downtown pickup daily is planned with a schedule of charges to be worked out according to the type of business.

Twenty-five percent raise in Cameron's water rates will be effective on the February 1 billing and meter reading on that bill begins on December 20 according to Alvin Hefft, Water Superintendent.

Magnolia Petroleum Company, through local attorney Jack Prescott has offered to settle the right of way dispute at it's final offer of $7,000 plus $1,500 expenses incurred during the dispute and trial in condemnation court. Councilman Brady suggested that

Yoe Cagers, Without Practice, Lose To Rockdale In 2nd. Half

"Practice makes perfect" is one maxim which proved 100 percent correct Tuesday night as the Cameron Yoemen traveled to Rockdale to meet the Tigers in their first basketball game of the season.

Tigers with two weeks practice compared to the Yoemen's two days took the tilt 56-29. It was no pushover for the Tigers. Although they took the lead as the opening gun sounded, they trailed for a few thrilling minutes late in the second quarter with the half ending in their favor 21-15.

However, with 70 percent of the Yoemen just out of football uniforms and in thinly dress for their first tilt of the season, the speedy game began to tell in the third quarter. Yoemen were unable to keep up the fast pace. Their defense in the final two periods failed to stop the accurate shots of Johnny Timmerman and Richard Kirkpatrick. At the same time, Yoe offense fell off almost entirely in the third and fourth quarter with the entire team scoring only two points in the third and three in the final period.

Coaches Jim Speer and Murphy Webster played every man during the game in an effort to establish possibilities of the forthcoming first string.

High point man on the Yoeman squad was Bobby Elliott with six points. He was closely followed by Arthur Marak and Ray Green with four points each and Sidney Koranek with three. Other scorers on the Cameron team were Charlie Baring with two points and Gene Hillman with one.

Top scorers of the game were Rockdale players with Timmerman taking 18, Kirkpatrick with 17, Jackie Yount, 8; Bingo Robinson, 6; Harvey Holliman, 3, and Billy Buetow and Wayne Kyle, two each.

Other players seeing action with the Cameron thinly-clads were Johnny Solomon, Lee Hollas, D. Jekel and Make McDermott.

Draft Board Sets Meetings For County School Sr. Men

Milam County's Local Board has scheduled a series of meetings with high school senior boys throughout the county to further selective service information.

Points stressed follow. 1. Explain the purpose of selective service 2. Explain the selective service organization 3. Explain the selective service process from registration to induction by means of a display and oral explanation 4. Give the registrants an oppor- open discussions regarding regulations.

The board feels that such meetings will be of benefit to registrants at a time when they will soon enter the business world or college. Meetings have been scheduled thus far with Rockdale High School, December 4; Aycock High School in Rockdale, December 4; Yoe High School in Cameron, December 10 and O. J. Thomas High School in Cameron, December 14.

It is hoped that all schools in the county will cooperate and give their senior boys this opportunity to get better acquainted with selective service facts and their local board.

January induction and preinduction physical examination calls have been received. Seven men will leave Milam County on January 24 for the induction station and eight will be ordered for preinduction physical examination on the same date.

Young men may still volunteer for induction, under selective service Regulations, but will have to await the next available call, since others ordered to fill a call will not be delayed for the purpose of sending volunteers in their place. The December call has already been filled, so that men now desiring voluntary induction will be ordered for the January 24 call.

Posters have been printed and received from state headquarters for the convenience of registrants. They will be posted in the high schools for the purpose of telling registrants the nearest place of registration and in this way save many registrants the inconvenience of traveling to the local board office in Cameron for this purpose when they may register right in their own community.

Barrels Of Toys For Needy Sought By "Fixit" Crew

Santa's Pals will be banded together in North Milam County through the leadership of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Santa was in Cameron Saturday to make a pact with the boys of the Jaycees that if they would gather toys, both new and used and put them in shape that he would see that the needy boys and girls of this part of the county would receive those "necessities" for a Merry Christmas.

Barrels will be placed on street corners, at entrances to all school buildings and headquarters will be at the Humble Oil Bulk Station at 710 Batte Street (On old Temple Highway at SP tracks).

Everyone in North Milam County is invited to contribute, either work which will go on nightly at the warehouse or tools, red, green or yellow paint, spray guns, saws, pliers, screwdrivers, bolts, nails, lumber, cotter pins, glue and clamps.

Toys may be placed in the barrels or taken to the Humble warehouse. Those "outgrown" or slightly dilapidated toys which can be made serviceable. A late report says that even PARTS of toys which might be used in repairing another similar toy or doll will be graciously accepted. No toy, tricycle or bicycle is too large or too small for this effort.

Mrs. Mary Lawrence reports that her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lawrence will return Friday from Sao Paulo, Brazil where Walter has been attending Roosevelt Institute. They will be here for a brief visit.

SANTA IS SEEKING AID IN CAMERON—Santa Claus dropped in on Cameron Saturday to ask aid in picking up some new and USED toys from the people of this part of the county for Christmas distribution to needy boys and girls.

The Jaycees willingly agreed to LEAD THE WAY and ask for donation of toys that are "outgrown" or slightly dilapidated or in need of red, green and yellow paint.

Santa stopped off at the Caperton Five and Ten Store to talk things over with Jerry, 4; Johnny, 5; and Jimmy 6 of the Richmond Zelisko family who live on Rt. 2 Buckholts. Their reaction to the idea of Santa coming to see them was teriffic. They may donate some of their old toys for the needy they said.

Caperton offered a PICKUP FULL of shopworn toys for Santa's Pals idea. Details were worked out and are listed in an adjoining story titled SANTA NEEDS Pals in Milam County.

The Wee Hours

By Your Police Reporter

Most of the heavy traffic was retiring from the Cameron streets as a large German Police dog trotted north on Houston Street across from the City Hall. Calls, whistles and yells from several persons standing in front of the municipal building failed to attract his attention.

Frank Richter, head fire truck driver, commented to the others that the dog made his north run on Houston Street every night at 9 a.m. and returned south along the same route at 2 a.m. in the morning. He further stated that the dog made his runs almost on the minute of these hours each night.

Patrolman Warren McCall added further information in that the dog always turned east at the signal light in front of the New Cameron Drug Store, then north again at the Cameron Cafe and always disappeared from view near Harris Service Station. The patroling dog quite often carries in his mouth dead rabbits, and other bits of food.

Consensus of opinion of those watching the dog for months now is that Western Union might well set their clocks by the animal's nightly patrols of the City of Cameron.

Letters To Congress Asked

Elm Watershed District Enters Critical Approval Stage

Property owners on the Elm Creek and its tributaries may have a flood control, conservation and improvement district before they know it with the whirlwind preparations being made by the committee.

Proceeding with all rapidity, the committee under direction of Chairman Buster Griffin this week worked on preparation of a brochure, complete with pictures of widespread devastation in past floods in the area, letters of recommendation and endorsement.

Figures compiled by the committee show benefits in the area will outrun cost of construction at least four and a half to one.

Verne Marshal, longtime promoter of soil conservation and dean of agricultural cooperative movements in Central Texas, states that the benefits which can be shown on the Elm Watershed are very great in comparison with that of other water sheds.

A brochure was compiled Monday in the offices of the Temple Chamber of Commerce by chairman Griffin, Soil Conservationist Carl Young, J. W. Holmes of Buckholts, Mr. and Mrs. David Haggard of Oenaville and Mrs. Buster Griffin, secretary.

Letters are entered from such men as Oxsheer Smith, Valter White, Hilliard Thomas of Cameron, from the Milam Commissioners Court and from Mr. Criswell of Buckholts and Tarver of Rosebud.

People on the committee and citizens at large in the entire watershed with emphasis on those living adjacent to the Elm Creek or tributaries will have to be thoroughly informed as to the benefits and recognize the feasibility of the project, said Griffin, because before the State Conservation Board will approve the project they will interrogate people in the area. Unless they show enthusiasm for the project and understand the import of such a venture it is unlikely that the project will gain approval of that board, Griffin stated.

Scheduled for becoming a political entity and gaining approval of Congress starts with presentation to the State Conservation Board in Austin on December 10. This first step is the most important hurdle. Next is preparation of a bill to be offered in the legislature and which is now in the process of being writen by Jim Bowmer, a Temple attorney. Representative Herman Yezak of Milam and Robertson counties has promised his undying efforts at promoting the bill into a high priority placement on the legislative calendar.

After the Texas legislature hurdle comes presentation to Congress in January. This, says Griffin, calls for letters from the people to their congressman as never before. Should Congress approve the measure then the money would be allocated and the project should get underway in 1957.

Co-sponsors of the district are the Soil Conservation District, City of Cameron, City of Temple and City of Moody and McLennan County. The watershed district, the chairman said, must be sponsored by already acknowledged legal sub divisions.

It is up to the watershed district to maintain the 50 to 75 structures for the duration of their 50 years of forseeable existence in the purpose for which they are built.

One of the small dams will be built at the head of the creek near Moody, probably one near the center and one at the foot of the watershed. Remainder of the structures will be on the tributaries.

The government is offering a "turn-key" job with completely sodded dams, impounding areas of 15 to 25 or 30 acres, and a "run-around" draw to provide for the "once in 25 years flood" so as to protect the dam. All of this is permanently fenced. Water is allowed to run into a 12 inch draw-down tube for regulated run-off and is set high enough to assure a 200 acre feet of permanent water on the farm. Any time a farmer wants to let water out for his neighbors he has a let out tube which he can open. If more permanent water is desired the draw-down tube can be raised or conversely lowered to suit the need of the farmer.

Anything Can Happen Christmas Morning

THE SILICONE FINISH will keep this bright plaid State-O-Maine robe clean and new looking long after the last decoration comes off the tree. Silicones make most drinks and non-oily liquids roll off without even wetting the fabric. Since Dow Corning Syl-mer finishes last through repeated dry cleanings, chances are that next Christmas this wool robe will still look as new as the day it was taken from its gift wrappings. The robe is available in three plaids: red and green or black and white in boys' sizes 4-12; men's sizes small, medium and large.

First United Fund Campaign Kicked Off Monday Morning

North Milam County's first United Fund drive got underway Monday with workers reporting good results in their solicitations from local business people.

Goal for the drive, which is to furnish funds for nine agencies, is $13,634.00, the bulk of which will be spent in North Milam County. Until the Fund was organized there had been a number of separate drives during every year in Cameron. The United Fund combined all of these agencies, except the March of Dimes, into a single fund and will eliminate the annoyance of the multiple drives.

This year marks the 80th anniversary of cooperative financing for health and welfare services in America. It all started in Buffalo, N. Y., in 187' when the "Charity Organization Society" came into being as a central bureau to check the overlapping of relief and to foster cooperative planning among various churches and charitable agencies.

In the years following, a number of the largest American cities organized similar societies. Michigan was the first state to establist The United Health And Welfare Fund Of Michigan. This was the first "package" appeal to raise funds to combat the "dread diseases." Since Detroit's pioneer project in 1949, more and more cities have established broader "United Way" campaigns until today there are more than 800 such United Funds.

When work was begun to organize Cameron's new United Fund organization, the first question before the board of directors was which organizations will join our campaign. Every organization contacted excepted one joined our local United Fund. The March Of Dimes declined to join the 1957 drive because their national headquarters had mapped out their 1957 campaign which will begin sometime in January.

The contributor is urged to remember that nine drives are combined into this one. He should consider what he would give each agency included in the drive and make out his check accordingly.

THESE ARE THE BENEFITS

1. Eliminates annoyance of many separate appeals throughout the year.
2. Helps the contributor give systematically and intelligently to an all around program of service.
3. Assures that the money contributed will go where it is most needed.
4. Assures the giver that he is giving for approved and efficiently administered services.

Agencies included in the drive are: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Heart Fund, Cancer Fund, Library Fund and Local Charities plus the U. F. Drive fund.

Milam Taxpayers' Exemption Status Should Be Current

All taxpayers in Milam County subject to withholdings were reminded today by A. P. Andrews of the Internal Revenue Service office in Temple that it is extremely important for them to keep employers advised of all changes in their exemptions.

"One of the common difficulties experienced by the Service is straightening out erroneous withholding tax certificates," Andrews added.

Keeping one's employer posted concerning exemption status benefits both the employer and Revenue Service. It enables the employer to maintain accurate records in both his own bookkeeping accounts and in his payment of these taxes to IRS. The Revenue Service is enabled to make more quickly accurate analysis of the taxpayer's return.

If a taxpayer's exemptions have changed, he should obtain at once a new certificate (Form W-4), fill it out and return to his employer. This should be done immediately, especially when dependency changes have an application to the current year.

Such factors as marriage, divorce, the birth of a child or assumption of the support of a recognized dependent may alter an individual's tax status.

Miss Joan Berry Becomes Bride Of Ernest Rutherford Recently

Miss Joan Berry became the bride of Ernest Rutherford, Jr., Saturday evening, November 24, in the Trinity Lutheran Church in Taylor.

Decorations included arrangements of white chrysanthemums at either side of the alter crucifix. Floor candelabra, laced in palm leaves, held lighted tapers for the ceremony. White satin ribbons marked family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped rosepoint lace and tulle over taffeta featuring a basque bodice with sheer tulle forming the high neckline and finishing in a small Peter Pan collar. Long sleeves came to points over the hands and a full skirt, worn over crinolines, was accented with a handkerchief overlay of rosepoint. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a cap of illusion and pearls. She carried a cascade of red roses showered in stephnotis. Her only jewelry was a pair of diamond ear studs; a gift of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Fred Owen of Austin. Bridesmaids were Misses Geneva Jacobson and Carolyn Moerbe of Taylor. Miss Donna McGoldrick of Cameron was flower girl.

Attendants of the bride were dressed alike in Arnel faille of dusty pink with full overskirts of matching tulle. The bodice was fitted with boat neckline and "V" back. Head bands were in matching pink, accented in matching sequins. Each carried a colonial bouquet of maroon chrysanthemums.

Jimmy McGoldrick of Cameron attended his brother-in-law as best man. Groomsmen were Weldon Lee Berry, brother of the bride and Marvin Rathke.

Ushers were Roy Finn and Carl Kaiser.

Mrs. Berry, wore a beige sheath with matching duster and accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Rutherford, mother of the groom was attired in brown. Both mothers wore carnation corsages.

Miss Gloria Rutherford, sister of the groom, served the three-tiered wedding cake, which was embossed in rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Sara Buzan registered guests.

FOR CHRISTMAS:
A Fanciful Candy Chain

THIS CHRISTMAS, deck your fireplace with a chain that's jolly, made of a variety of colorful candies that go hand-in-hand with seasonal evergreens, mistletoe and holly. As shown above . . . shortly after starting, grown-up's and youngsters too, can make a chain several feet long. Here's how: Pull out from a queen size roll . . . a 3" strip of clear plastic wrap and spread it out on a table. At 2" intervals, place a piece of candy. Then fold over wrap and twist between each piece of candy to lock them all in place. Wrap a bit of colored or clear cellophane tape between each piece and your first link is complete. Join links together with same tape to make a saran-candy chain long enough to decorate your fireplace, Christmas tree, entrance ways or rooms. Moisture proof, the chain can also be hung outdoors and best of all . . . the children can eat its contents when the holidays are past.

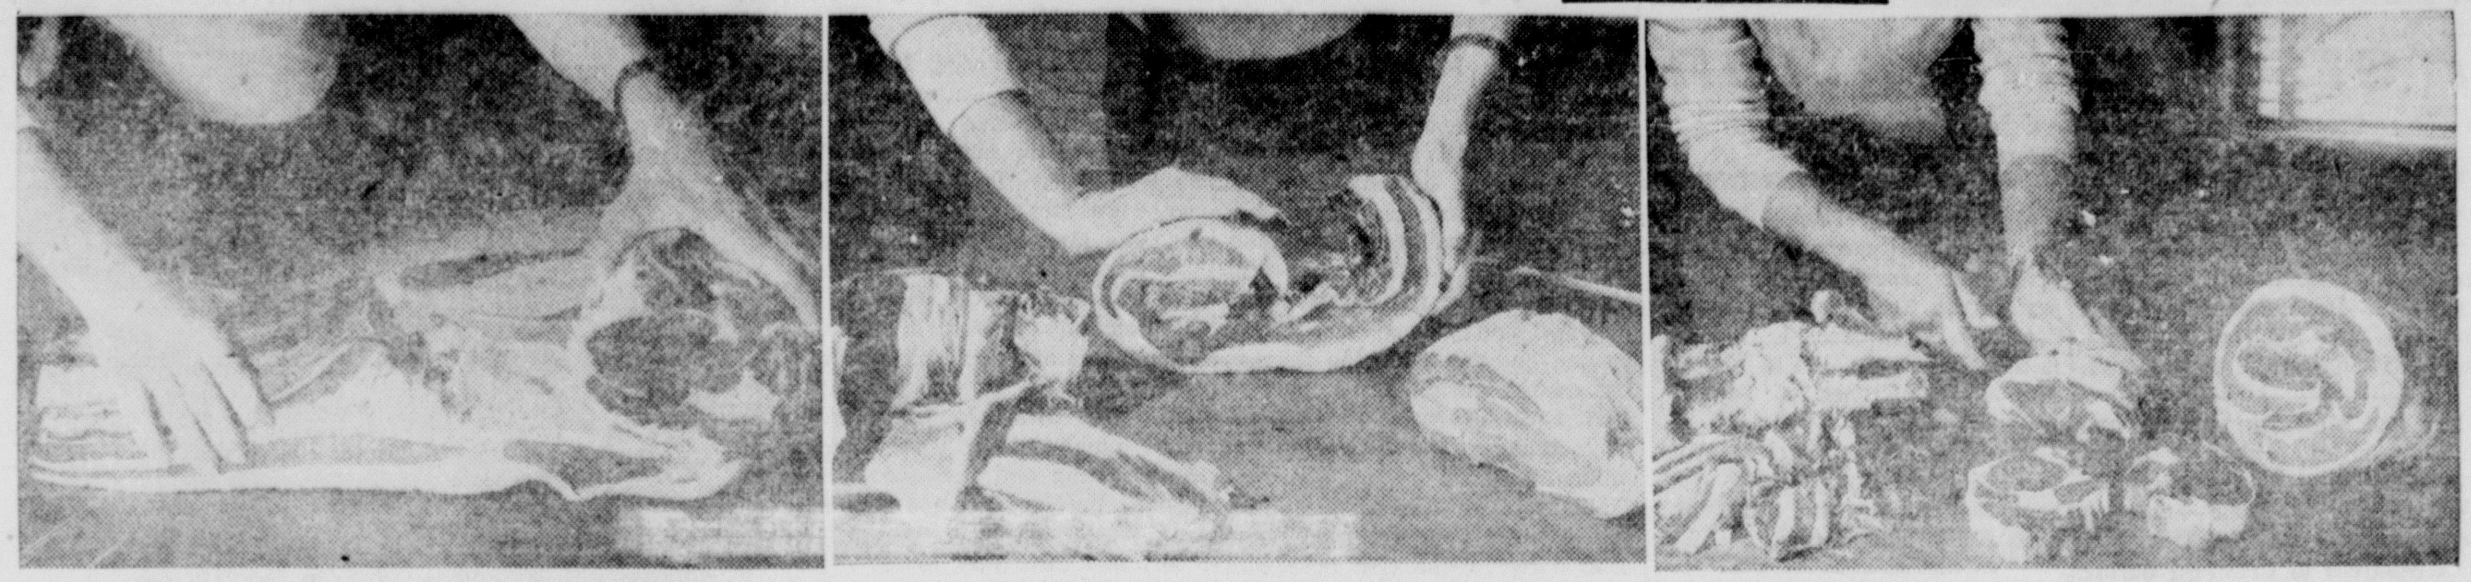
DO-IT-YOURSELF: GET THREE MEALS FROM ONE ECONOMY BEEF POT ROAST



If your family likes beef — and who doesn't — they will love this new design for living. Simply buy a full 6th and 7th rib pot roast, divide it, before cooking, into the several cuts illustrated above and prepare each in your family's favorite way. (1) Have your butcher saw through the rib bones above the eye of fat. Hold firmly to both ends to separate the rib-eye from the outside section. Cut rib bones free and trim lean meat off. Remove thin blade cartilage and backbone. (2) Then roll outside section, fat side out, into a pot roast and skewer or tie. Cook over low temperature with moisture for best results. (3) Slice the rib-eye into 1½ to 2-inch "country club" steaks which are tender enough to broil or, if preferred, swiss. Use bones for beef stock and lean meat for stew. Wrap or cover the cuts loosely if they are to be used within a few days; freeze them if longer storage is desired. At-home fabricating saves time and money, says the Texas Beef Council and provides three or four distinctively different dinners.

CAGY RUNNER AND LINE BACKER

Arthur (Monk) Marek rose from the ranks of Coach Leo Jackson's Yoemen during the football season just past to win a permanent post as halfback before the final game. Monk, from whom much will be expected during the 1957 season, is on both the Cameron's defense and offensive squads. Paired with Warren Rinn at the other halfback post and with Guy Dillon at fullback and Bobby Elliott at quarterback, Cameron Yoemen in the 1957 season will have the best all-round backfield in District 9-AAA and will be hard to beat by any schoolboy team in the entire state.

TOPS IN PUNTING

During the season just ended, Jesse Kirk outside of three games turned out some high, long and fancy kicking for the Cameron Yoemen. His punts in early games of the season were averaging in the thirties while those in the final three games averaged between 38 and 40 yards. However, in the three games preceding his unexcelled kicking, his average for the season fell. In the background is No. 20, Hubert Marek, who is another back with added experience and next year will give the Yoe coaching staff the power to set Cameron on top of the 9-AAA totem pole.

Cotton Quota Polling Places For December 11 Election Set

Members of community referendum committees, who will be responsible for conducting the cotton marketing quota referendum throughout the county on December 11, were announced this week by the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

All members are farmers eligible to vote in one of the referenda being held. Many of the referendum committeemen are also elected community committeemen.

Arrangements for the establishment of polling places in all of Milam County's eight cotton growing communities have been completed. This includes growers who participated in the 1956 Upland Cotton Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank. If there is any question about eligibility, farmers are asked to check with their county ASC office.

The community polling places and the referendum committeemen serving in the December 11 poll are as follows:

School Holidays Begin Dec. 18 End January 2

Equalizing the holidays before and after Christmas is the reason the Cameron Public Schools will dismiss for the winter vacation at the end of school on Tuesday, December 18, to return to school on January 2.

Explaining the school's decision to quit school in the middle of the week and return on January second instead of on the first Superintendent Wiley Loughmiller said that because of absenteeism on the first day of the year that the second day was better and that he also sought to equalize the number of days before and after Christmas. In 1957 he said the holidays will begin on the 20th and return on the sixth of January.

Most of the teachers and officials interviewed said that holidays would be quiet ones at home for them with a little raking of leaves "just for the exercise."

the business men of the erstwhile Better Roads Committee, who first brought the matter up several years ago, be consulted before accepting the compromise offer or rejecting it which would mean a lawsuit, and a possibility of paying even more for the property. Condemnation proceeding found that the Magnolia Company should be paid $10,000 for their property and damages.

Water Superintendent Alvin Hefft was authorized to extend a six inch water main for fire protection west on eighth street from Emancipation to Vogelsang at a cost of about $2,200. The city has the pipe on hand.

Stop signals at the corner of Fourth and Fannin was vetoed by the state highway department but a four way stop was suggested as an alternative. In a letter from the Highway department it was pointed out that a traffic count of the street did not indicate the necessity for a signal light at that intersection. It was voted by council unanimously, however to place a red to green (no yellow) light at the intersection of Batte and College. The city has a red to green light on hand. Cost of construction was estimated by W. D. Bigbee to run $150.

Taxes of Wiese Lumber Company was the subject of a special meeting of the City Equalization Board on November 19 and that body, composed of Dan Gunn, George McGehee and John Hays found that they had mistakenly read an evaluation placed on Wiese's personal property at $7,000 rather than $2,000. The boards recommendation of a $2,500 assessment was accepted by the council.

Request for installation of a hot water heater in the residence of Mr. Davis, city park caretaker, in Ledbetter Park was referred to City Secretary Wayne B. Wieser for investigation.

Water District Approved Dec. 1

Voters in the area which will compose the Milam County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 turned out overwhelmingly for the district in the election held in Buckholts last Saturday, December 1.

The vote was 195 for the district with only two ballots cast in opposition according to a report received Wednesday morning from Ed Kolba, president of the State Bank in Buckholts.

Michael Anderson was presented with the Bear Badge, one silver point under the Wolf Badge and a one-year service pin. A Bear Badge was also presented to David Mees while John Kohl received the gold arrow point under the Wolf Badge. Frankie Dorner and Garry Litzman were each awarded a Wolf Badge.

Members of Pack No. 213 and their adult leaders attended the Baylor-Rice football game in Waco on Saturday, December 1, as guests of Baylor University.

Frank Ulicnik In Auto Accident

An automobile accident occurred about 12:19 a.m. Wednesday, December 5, near the corner of West 12th Street and North Crockett. No one was injured.

The accident occurred when Frank J. Ulicnik, 18, of Cameron attempted a left hand turn and skidded into the front yard of property owned by the John Joches Estate according to William H. Brandenburg, traffic investigator. An evergreen tree and 24 feet of fence were torn up as a result according to the officer. Ulicnik's automobile also suffered extensive damages.

Ulicnik was charged with failure to maintain proper control of the vehicle.

Christmas In South Read To Young Historical Society

"Christmas In The South" was read by Mrs. Lelia M. Batte to fourteen young ladies, members of the Ben Milam Chapter of Children Of The Confederacy, as they sat by her invalid bed Monday afternoon.

Little Nan Reno presided at the meeting and led the "parade" into the sick room of their matron and upon completion of the story which was written by Mrs. Tom Henderson retired with the flags after singing Christmas music.

As each of the children left the room to play on the spacious grounds of the Sycamores she passed by the bed of Mrs. Batte and received a rhinestone studded jewel case.

Mrs. Batte is very proud of a little incident reported by a lady about one of the Children of the Confederacy. The little lady was called upon in Sunday School for prayer and responded with the prayer of Robert E. Lee.

Today, December 6, the Mary Black chapter will meet with Mrs. Batte at 4 p.m. to hear the Christmas Story. On December 13 the J. E. B. Stuart chapter will hear the story of General Grand and Lee at Appamatox from Mrs. Batte.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

RECIPES . . . HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter

Home Economics Director, Lone Star Gas Company

Most folks say that candy is a Christmas tradition as important as "turkey and all the trimmings". And candy-making is part of the fun of the holiday season. We agree, so here are some suggestions to help make your candy "goodies" a complete success. Good equipment for candy-making includes a pan with a close fitting cover, large enough to allow for boiling and heavy enough to prevent ingredients from scorching; a wooden spoon for beating, a spatula, waxed paper, metal baking sheets, a platter, standard measuring cups and spoons, and a candy thermometer.

In making candy, remember these rules: Use a dependable recipe and don't try to change it. Measure ingredients and follow directions exactly. Proportions and temperatures have been carefully worked out to make the recipe successful. Candies made with milk should be cooked over medium heat to avoid scorching. Candies made with water may be boiled faster. Sugary candy is often caused by sugar crystals finding their way into the candy as it cooks or cools. To help prevent sugar crystals from forming around the sides of the candy pan, stir the sugar in thoroughly before cooking the mixture. Cover the cooking pan until the mixture boils, for the steam will melt sugar crystals down from the sides of the pan. Once boiling starts, uncover the pan.

To help prevent sugar crystals as the candy cools, be sure the candy is not moved about during the cooling period. When making candies such as taffies, caramels or brittles, never scrape the last of the syrup from the pan.

A candy thermometer of a good investment as it takes the guesswork out of testing. Use the manufacturer's directions for the thermometer. Without a theremometer, follow the cold-water test, trying only one or two drops of mixture at a time. Be sure to remove candy from heat as you test, for even a few moments extra cooking may be too much. Keep a close eye on the candy during last few minutes of cooking, as the temperature rises with great speed once it reaches 220 degrees F. Unless the recipe calls for it, don't beat the candy before it has cooled. The ideal temperature is 110 degrees F., or when the saucepan feels lukewarm to palm of the hand. Vigorous beating is not necessary. A steady beating will produce creamy candy. If there is excess moisture in the air, it is advisable to cook candies to a slightly firmer stage —a degree or so above what is given in the recipe.

For additional free information on candy making send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Holiday Delight: Combine ½-pound Brazil nuts, cut in lengthwise halves; ½-pound pecan halves, ½ pound walnuts, corsely chopped; ½-pound candied cherries, cut in half; ½-pound candied pineapple, cut in good size pieces Combine in saucepan and cook over medium flame to soft ball stage (234 degrees F.) 3-cups sugar, 1-cup light corn syrup, 1½-cups cream. Remove from flame and begin beating immediately. (It will begin to thicken and change color.) Add 1½-teaspoons vanilla. Continue beating and add fruit and nut mixture slowly. When all ingredients have been added, mixture will be thick and sticky. Pack into two 8-inch square waxed paper lined pans, pressing down firmly with a wet spoon. Chill in refrigerator. After a few hours the sticky syrup will become firm and almost white in color. Cut into pieces after 24 hours. Store in refrigerator until ready to use. Keeps indefinitely.

"Oh, boy! Cowboy boots for Christmas!" That's the hope of these two typical American youngsters, Deb and Jay Dawson, as they see this display of boots that can bring them the glamour and excitement of the old West! Santa seems to be listening. Who knows? Maybe dreams will come true!

On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half mast from sunrise to noon and at full mast from noon to sunset.

Poultry And Hard Work Build Farm Income For Lucko Family

By J. D. Moore

Poultry can be profitable, points out the Charlie Lucko family, who live north of Cameron on a 105 acre farm with only 83 acres in cultivation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucko were married in 1948. They bought the undivided interest in the family farm and started from scratch. They row-crop farmed the small farm in 1949 and 1950. They soon realized more income was needed than was being produced on the small farm. They could not afford to buy more land and equipment for a more economical unit.

The Lucko family built a 36 foot by 60 foot pole type poultry house in 1950 at a cost of $800 for material. They traded work with neighbors to get the extra labor to build the house. Their first venture was with heavy type hens as parent stock to produce hatching eggs. A good set of records were kept and pointed out a cost of 25 cents to produce a dozen eggs. This high cost per dozen was due to the heavy hens requiring more feed in addition to low rate of production. Top production for these heavy hens was only 65 percent.

These hens were not confined and on open range and did not produce as efficiently as they would if confined. Lucko had a guarantee of 80 cents per dozen for his eggs which sounded attractive, but he found that the high cost of production should be underlined. These 650 hens netted the Lucko family $5.13 per hen or $3,334.50. These eggs were produced for a commercial firm.

Lucko Expands

In 1951 Lucko built another pole type poultry house, 3888 square feet, to house 1200 hens at a cost of $1800 for material. The labor was handled the same as in building the first house.

The first house built was converted into a brooding and starting house for pullet chicks. Hens are kept one year and then replaced with new pullets. The 1200 hens kept in 1951 were meat type hens and produced eggs for broiler chicks. The hens were confined and produced a little more economically than did the 1950 hens.

Since 1950, Lucko had farmed the 83 acres in corn, grain and peas. During 1952-53 he learned you cannot mix farming and poultry and do justice to both. His family dropped 30 acres out of cultivation and planted it to grazing. They bought a manure speaker to put the poultry droppings back on their land. If grass is available, they run 30-35 head of stocker cattle during the fall and winter.

Increasing Hens

Their hen number in 1952 was increased to 1600 hens. In 1950 a graded egg program was started in Cameron which paid 5½ cents dozen above current receipt for eggs. This program has had a stabilizing effect on egg production. This market egg program was a big help to those flock owners who were producing hatching eggs. It provides a market for eggs not going into the incubators. Generally, hatching egg contracts run only two or three months per year.

In 1953 the Lucko family added 200 egg strain hens for market egg production and in 1954 they added 400 more. They found from records that more profit can be made from smaller type hens because it takes less feed to produce a dozen eggs and the per cent production is higher.

Due to these findings, Lucko is still producing hatching eggs but has changed to producing eggs from smaller type egg strain hens.

In 1956 a 5130 square foot, pole type house was added at a cost of $2,000 for material. They have 1400 hens now in this house, bringing their total to 2200 hens. These hens will net around $4.50 each according to the Lucko records. They will average 77 percent production for the year. The hatchability of the eggs run from 87 to 91 percent which is good. Around 30 percent of Lucko's eggs are sold for hatching eggs and 70 percent are sold through a graded egg program as commercial eggs.

Grain Storage

Lucko has a grain storage building and bought 57,000 pounds of maize at harvest time. He is feeding a 27 percent protein high energy feed. He mixes this equally with maize. This mixture costs $4.00 per 100 pounds. His average feed cost per dozen eggs this year will be 15 cents.

He has installed an automatic feeder in the 5130 square foot house and has recently built a well insulated egg house. The egg house will be cooled with refrigerated air during the summer. This cooler will pay for itself with higher returns on the market eggs.

Lucko points out the fact that experience teaches how to cut corners. When asked about the labor required for caring for his flock, he stated that it would take four to five hours per day for him to feed, gather the eggs, clean and case them. He declares it takes inexperienced hands twice as long to handle the same work.

All of the Lucko family's luck has not been good. You would not have a true story without all of the facts. In 1954 they had a tremendous set back due to ill effects from a mixed vaccination program. Actually, they lost $2,000 and seriously considered quitting the poultry business. They didn't quit. They realized this was a management problem.

Lucko and his family point out the fact that there are no unemployment problems on a poultry farm since it takes seven days per week to get the job done.

When asked how his operation compares with 1956 row crops, Lucko stated that he had already harvested one crop and would harvest another before the year is up.

Highway Patrolmen Urge Precautions In Driving

"Anything goes as long as you can get away with it! That seems to be the attitude of many people when it comes to the observance of traffic laws and regulations," Capt. E. K. Browning, Jr., of the Texas Highway Patrol, recently told Highway Patrolmen stationed in Cameron.

"With the future holidays coming up soon, this attitude is posing a grave problem as it is impossible to station a patrol car on all the highways that will be traveled by citizens going to some destination to observe Christmas. You can't trust people of this type to obey the law when they're not being watched. The result is that these problem drivers are causing countless traffic accidents.

"Last year from November 14 to midnight of December 24, 342 persons were killed in Texas by traffic accidents, therefore did not celebrate Thanksgiving and-or Christmas as you and I did. During the same period, 3099 persons were injured on our rural highways to the extent they did not or were not able to joyously celebrate these holidays due to traffic accidents. Worry and unhappiness in many, many homes in this state was caused by 5848 statewide injuries," said Captain Browning.

"What they don't seem to understand is that nobody gets away with traffic lawlessness indefinitely. If an officer of the law doesn't catch up with them, the law of averages does as is shown in the above stated statistics. They always take one chance too many and end up in a wreck of their own making."

Browning added, "the three top causative factors of accidents in this area are driving too fast for conditions, driving and drinking and failure to grant right of way. Enjoy your Christmas Holidays just around the corner. Don't become a statistic."

Buckholts Badgers Win Over Rogers

Buckholts High School boys and girls took both their games from Rogers Tuesday night, November 27, at the Buckholts Gymnasium. The boys won 45-27 and the girls by 41-28.

Setting the pace for the Buckholts cagers was Charles Hundl with 13 points. G. Moore was high point man for the Rogers five with 11 points.

Jeannie Hanke with the Girl Badgers was high point scorer in the girls' game with 26 points.

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By Adrian I. Moore
Soil Conservationist

Not to show a discredit to Buffel grass, - it is a wonderful grass in its place and one that will remain in the mind of this Soil Conservation personnel for many a year.

Up to the time Buffel was introduced to the work area of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District, there just had not been a permanent grass come along that would come up and grow off like Buffel. And, there hasn't been one since. Perhaps that is why a number of "wild stories" have originated around this particular grass. The one involving our own District Cooperator, Kirk Knight of Bartlett is in a general way typical of at least part of the stories.

Knight introduced Buffel grass to the community in a big way some five or six years ago when he just up and planted ten acres of it. That was a pretty good order considering seed cost six dollars a pound.

Well sir, when the planting operation started, our story begins. Folks would drive by and look out where Kirk was and then they would stop to go see what he was about. And, although he had never planted any Buffel before and didn't know the least thing about how to do it, - the way things turned out it wasn't any trouble at all. Everyone that stopped would look awhile and then tell Kirk just how it ought to be done. Shortly the job was done and done right and mother nature took over.

Rains and Grass

Rains came and for thirty days folks would just look and shake their heads about the way that good field was growing up in sour grass. Some of them talked sort of low to each other about the way it looked like maybe old Kirk had lost his marbles after they'd see him out there cultivating his crop of sour grass. Two or three of the best intentioned neighbors even volunteered to help him set his plows so he'd kill the grass instead of favoring it.

More rains and Mr. Buffel grass started identifying himself. In less than sixty days it was two feet tall and waving in the breeze. Ninety days and it was nearly four feet tall, lapped in the middle and reaching for the sky. In those days it wasn't uncommon to see six or seven cars parked alongside Knight's grass patch with a dozen or more people out looking it over. Newspapers printed stories about the grass and enough pictures were taken that the local stores had to replenish their supply of film for cameras. School children made studies of it and agricultural agencies came and viewed it with much hope and enthusiasm.

Now and then a stranger would drive through the community and run plumb off the road rubber-necking at the patch of grass. One of them ran clear out in the grass field and had to be pulled off of high center from the grass that doubled back under the car.

Harvest Seeds

Crews were hired to harvest the grass seed by hand and some of the grass was so big that knives were used to cut a way down between the rows to get to the seed. They finally left a part of the patch because the grass was so thick the field crews were afraid their children would get lost.

People even got to where they'd drive on the opposite side of the road so as not to get too close. Mothers of the community were frantic and cautioned their children about staying away from Knight's for fear they'd stray out into the grass and get lost. Hugo Kuntz, a neighbor who lived right next to the patch, just flat sold out and left the farm to move to the safety of town.

Through all this Kirk remained undisturbed. The grass seed paid a good profit and the soil, he figured, was being improved.

His own personal problems started when cattle were placed on the patch to graze. Mother cows would lose their babies and run off all their flesh looking for the little rascals. Twenty-four hours a day there was a constant lowing and thrashing about the patch as their search went on and on, for after each nursing the mother and offspring would become seperated again. Kirk himself was misplaced in the patch for a half day before he found his way out and all this was within two hundred yards of the house.

Stocking Pasture

Finally, to get the grass kind of chopped down, he stocked it with seventy head of steers. After a couple of growing seasons of this the soil maybe got a little tired. Maybe the available plant nutrients were running a little low. Or, maybe it was because it had just flat quit raining. Anyway, the Buffel grass slackened up a bit in it's growing and Kirk decided he would be a little more at ease to put her back under the plow.

This was done. A short time later I was talking with Kirk and a conservation enthusiast, who had sought us out on the virtues of this Buffel grass. It was August, hot, dry and getting drier. This old blackland was cracked wide open and three feet deep. We visited briefly with Knight filling in detailed answers to the man with the questions. Finally, he asked, "Mr. Knight, what do you think of the soil conditioning effects of Buffel grass? Has it loosened up your ground?"

"Soil Condition effects! Loose!" Knight exclaimed. "Why as dry as it is, yesterday I drove out on my field of Buffelgrass and bogged my tractor down. And man, I mean plumb down!"

At this point, I looked straight at the sidewalk and slowly walked away. Next day Kirk was on me. Why, he wanted to know, did I walk away and leave him?" "Kirk", I said, "I stayed with you all the way until you bogged that tractor down."

And thats about where the story ends, with this exception.—Buffel grass has come and gone to the Knight farm. Perhaps it may never return, but it has mellowed and improved the structure of the soil where it grew, added organic matter and plant nutrients through decomposition. Even the color of the soil is a little richer. The improvement effects of its growth will remain with the soil for several years. It's memory will remain a lifetime.

Science In Future Is General Motors School Exhibit

Ed. Note: This review was written by David Barkemeyer of the eighth grade and edited for Herald readers.

"Science in the future" was the theme of a General Motors show in the Yoe High Auditorium on November 26, attended by the eighth grade.

Exhibits included a jet engine, an auto run by sunlight, a small rocket and a bottle that was used to drive a nail through a board but was broken when a tiny rock was dropped into the bottle.

An eye-opener exhibit showed a diminutive cooking stove, about the size of a gallon bucket. The stove was not hot but cold. A napkin was placed between the stove and a frying pan, while an egg was fried in the pan. The exhibitor explained that the pan was heated by friction and even the napkin was left unchanged.

Make Christmas A Bright One With Happiness — Not Fire

Speaking from his Austin office, J. O. "Jim" Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, issued a word of caution to Texans, today, regarding Christmas tree-decorating safety.

"Accidents at Christmas time always seem so much more tragic," Musick said. "And this is especially true if the accident results in a fire that costs a family their home; maybe serious injury to one of the family."

Musick pointed out that most of this type of accident is easily preventable, if only a few common sense precautions are taken. As an example he listed the following eight rules which he considers "musts" in safe decorating.

They are keep tree outside until time to trim, place tree away from all heating units, use nonflammable decorations, never use candles near tree, make sure that lights, sockets and wiring are in good condition, anchor tree, at top with wire to prevent it from falling, turn off tree lights at bedtime or when away from home and dispose of tree safely; never burn in fireplace.

"Remember," he concluded. "It takes less than 60 seconds for the average tree to burn up completely, so make your Christmas a bright one, but with happiness — not with fire."

A 1957 FORD CAR offering the advantages of both the hardtop and the convertible represents the first revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago. To change the hardtop into a convertible, the driver simply presses a button and the all-steel top automatically slides into the trunk where it is completely concealed. It's equally simple to raise the top. The center picture shows the top in operation. Production of the car, a Ford first, will start in January.

Revolutionary New Idea Shown In New Ford Retractable Model

First revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago was unveiled today by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company. It is a hardtop model with a fully retractable steel top which at the touch of a button slides automatically into the car's trunk, according to H. H. Stedman of Hefley-Stedman Motor Co., Cameron.

Functional design of the first automatic all-weather car has resulted in a distinctive appearance previously unattained by any hard top model. The new car combines the advantages of both a hardtop and a convertible.

Publication today of photographs of a finished model of the Ford Retractable ended nearly five years of secrecy. In that time, Ford's stylists and engineers perfected a design which has been a long-sought goal of the atuo industry. The six passenger two door car is scheduled for production starting in January, and it will be sold by Ford dealers. It will be the featured car at the New York Automobile Show opening December 8.

Operation of the Retractable is deceptively simple. An instrument panel button is touched to raise or lower the steel top. Electric motors do the rest in a matter of seconds. But years of research were required to perfect the design. In the testing program, the top mechanisms have been operated approximately 10,000 times, equivalent to 30 years of normal service.

When the driver touches the top button, electric locks are released in the trunk lid and it rises up and back out of the way. Then locks are automatically released in the top, which swing up, back and down into the trunk. The trunk lid closes and locks itself. In 40 seconds, the car has been converted from closed hardtop sedan to an open-air vehicle. To change it back again, the top button needs only to be moved in the opposite direction. For complete safety, the mechanism will operate only when the car's transmission is in neutral and the ignition key is turned to the "accessory" position with engine stopped.

Stedman said the Retractable was "another example of the type of advanced engineering, product improvement, and customer benefits which the public can continue to expect from Ford." He cited the introduction of the Thunderbird as a similar advancement.

"Since Ford cars attract larger numbers of customers who want exciting new products, the company is able to design innovations into the Ford line of cars which even the most expensive cars cannot offer today," Stedman explained.

Only twice during the long development period has Ford officially acknowledged that the Retractable Hardtop was being developed. During 1953, the company showed the press a dream-car scale model of the design idea. Three years later, during Ford's national press show last September, a full-scale prototype was shown to newspapermen in Detroit but the company maintained the tight secrecy lid which prevented photographs.

The revolutionary car bears definite family resemblance to Ford's Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series sedans. However, it is three inches longer over-all than are Ford's Fairlanes. The extra length provides rear deck space for the car's flat, streamlined roof which is literally swallowed in the trunk.

To permit nesting a full-width, rigid steel top nearly 90 inches long into the trunk. the designers moved the spare tire under a floor plate in the rear deck, and relocated the gas tank further forward in the deck. Luggage space is in the center area of the huge rear deck.

One design feature that makes the device workable is a special linkage extending to the front section of the roof. This permits the forward ten inches of the roof to swing back like a flipper, shortening the total length to be stored in the deck.

Another innovation is the counterbalancing that has been built into the entire top mechanism. It works as easily as the regular Ford's hood and deck lid, which are spring-balanced for easy opening. Small fractional horsepower motors that drive the retractable top require the same amount of current needed to operate a conventional canvas convertible top.

The show also features a French pastry shop, a toy assembly line, and scenes of animated animals scampering through their woodland homes. Chapel For Children To Be Built At Austin State School In Austin

WHAT IS A CHURCH?—To many students at the Austin State School for Mentally Retarded, the inside of a church is unknown. Geraldine Walker and Kenneth Rutledge, students there, visit an Austin church with their chaplain, the Rev. Luther Holloway. Since volunteer groups have launched a state-wide, fund-raising campaign to build a non-denominational chapel for the 1900 children at the school, the children have been eager to see inside a real church. For 40 years, students at the school have attended church and Sunday School classes in a school room. The campaign, launched Sunday, has already brought in donations. Architects estimate the chapel's cost at $76,000.

Plans to build a $76,000 non-denominational chapel at the Austin State School for Mentally Retarded Children were announced Sunday. Three sponsoring volunteer groups the Austin Council for Church Women, the Austin Jewish Community Council and the Volunteer Council for the School - were each receiving donations Monday.

The fund drive is being conducted state-wide since the children come from all parts of Texas.

Word was quick to spread among the 1900 children at the school as to the Chapel's possibility. Many of the children have never been inside a church yet the great majority are aware they have a Heavenly Father. The school's chaplain, Rev. Luther Holloway, who conducts church and Sunday School in their schoolroom, has explained to them about a "building just for the worship of God". So have visiting rabbis, priests and ministers. The children have seen churches from windows of the school bus when they have been taken for rides at Christmas.

Two Austin architects who volunteered their services in designing the Chapel, have estimated its cost, furnished, at $76,000;

There are no chapels or churches presently at any of the state institutions of this kind.

Fall Rose Planting

Fall planting of roses is generally preferred in Texas. Start with No. 1 grade plants; have the soil prepared before the plants arrive and make sure the roots are never exposed to sunlight or drying winds before planting.

Fred Bowman Made Assistant Manager

Fred L. Bowman, a veteran of ten years in the telephone industry, has been named acting district manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Austin District, which includes Cameron and 15 other Central Texas towns.

Bowman replaces George F. Brooks, who has been named district manager for the telephone company in Fort Worth. The move was announced by Tom

Fred L. Bowman

G. Brown, Jr., the company's division manager.

In his new job, Bowman will be in charge of Southwestern Bell's commercial activities in 16 towns. His district includes more than 101,000 telephones. He will maintain headquarters in Austin.

Bowman was unit manager for the telephone company in Austin in 1952 and 1953. From there he was promoted to commercial methods supervisor in Dallas, and more recently has been working on the company's general commercial staff in St. Louis.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Bowman attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and the University of Cincinatti. He spent four years in the Army in World War II, serving as commander of a medium tank unit in Europe.

He began his telephone career in 1946 in Dayton. In 1950, he transferred to Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in San Antonio. In 1951 he was named manager at Victoria, and in 1952 came to Austin.

Country Club Hold Handicap

It was "Flag day" out at Cameron Country Club Tuesday, November 27, as flags were all over the course, from the eighth to the lip of the cup on green nine.

Approximately twenty ladies of the Ladies Cameron Golf Association were on hand for the regular Tuesday meeting and flag tournament which was run on a handicap basis.

Florence Rice took top number of golf balls as a prize for low score with Esther Manning second and Berniece Lester in third place.

At the business session the idea of joining the Central Texas Women's Golf Association was discussed. This would make the ladies eligible for tournament play all over Central Texas. Mrs. Claude Bennett is preisdent, Dorcas Smith, secretary and Esther Manning Treasurer. On the pairing committee is Mrs. Lester, Peggy Smith of Rosebud, and Mrs. Pete Jones of Rockdale. Mrs. Ann Ruth Denson is an advisor.

It was pointed out by the president that more ladies are needed to make the tournament play better.

At the luncheon Mrs. Ann Ruth Denson, Mrs. Amy Ford and Mrs. Henry Siebman were present but did not participate in the tournament.

14 Percent Rain Used

Normally, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist, [illegible] rain falls on Texas to cover the state to a depth of 30 inches with water.

Unfortunately, he adds, only about 14 percent of this 30 inches is utilized, the other 86 percent is lost to evaporation or runoff. Hold water where it falls for maximum benefit, he says.

Texas Agriculture

Rural boxholders who find in their boxes this week a card from the Texas Statistician, Agricultural Marketing Service, will be rendering a service to Texas agriculture if they will fill out the card and return it to the statistician.

Referendum Day Set

December 11 is referendum day for a lot of Texas farmers. Producers of both upland and extra long staple cottons along with peanut and rice growers have an opportunity to vote on the question of marketing quotas for next year's crops.

Peanut growers will be voting on an extension of present marketing quotas for a three year period. A favorable vote by at least two-thirds of the voters is required to keep the marketing quotas in effect.

Marketing quotas mean higher support prices for the crops being voted upon, but have nothing to do with acreage allotments except that the farm's marketing quota is the production from the alloted acres.

Christmas Gifts Need Of Patients

At the November meeting of the East Texas Tuberculosis Hospital, plans were made for the Christmas program for more than 600 patients now in the hospital.

Patients range in age from 7 to 85, and planning for this large number is a big undertaking. However, the citizens of East Texas have always offered their resources and assistance, and only have to be reminded of the need for further help again this year.

Entertainment, programs, caroling, parties and visiting with patients during Christmas week has always meant so much to the patients who cannot be at home with their families and friends. Donations of gifts for all of the patients is one of the major projects.

Any gift that might be chosen for any man, woman, or child in the home will be appreciated. Such items as cosmetics, games, stationery, costume jewelry, fruit, candy, slippers, lingerie, socks, underwear, pajamas, cigarettes, razor blades, fingernail polish, shaving lotion, shampoo, face powder and cream and lipstick always make good gifts. Television sets are still needed for the patients in private rooms and the smaller sets have been found to be most popular.

Any person or organization who is interested in helping either by donations, entertainment or by volunteer work to help decorate, gift wrap or sorting presents will be welcomed. Inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Ina Goff, Volunteer Coordinator at the hospital; Mrs. P. J. McNamara, Pounds Field, Tyler; Mrs. A. H. Marks, 504 Parkdale, Tyler; Mrs. Frances Gertz or Miss Eva Day, Kilgore, or Mrs. Kent Robison, Longview.

Buckholts Wins First Cage Game

The same night found the Rogers girls defeating the Buckholts girls by the close score of 36-35. Return engagement with the Rogers school was to be held at Buckholts Tuesday night.

Officer To Head Good Roads Plan

Callan Graham of Houston has been named executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association. He will assume active management of the Association at Austin on December 1.

Charles K. Devall, publisher of the Kilgore News-Herald and president of TGRA, announced today that Graham had accepted the position and will succeed Jim Lindsey who resigned November 1.

CALLAN GRAHAM, Former West Texas legislator and district attorney from Kimble County, has been named executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association at Austin. He will assume the post December 1.

A World War II pilot in the China-Burma-India theater, the 42-year-old attorney served in the Texas Legislature from 1949 to 1952 as representative from Junction where he had served as Kimble County attorney and District Attorney of the 112th Judicial District. Graham is resigning his present position as general counsel and assistant to the executive vice-president of the Texas Manufacturers Association at Houston to accept the Texas Good Roads Association post.

Devall said that members of the Texas Good Roads Association executive committee were "very happy to secure the services of Callan Graham, especially at this time since we are facing the most active decade of road-building progress in history."

"Graham is a seasoned, experienced executive with a first-hand knowledge of the many problems facing the Texas highway program," Devall said. "We believe he will provide the high caliber of active leadership which the Association's program requires."

Ed C. Burris, executive vice-president of the Texas Manufactures' Association, also praised Graham's service with TMA and expressed regret that he was resigning.

"Callan Graham will be a fine man for the important work of the Texas Good Roads Association and we are happy that he will have this exceptional opportunity to work for Texas progress," Burris said.

Graham was born in Del Rio. He attended public schools in Kimble County and graduated from the University of Texas. Following graduation he returned to Junction to practice law.

He is a past president of the Rotary Club at Junction.

After his legislative service, Graham practiced law in San Antonio three years before assuming his duties in the Houston office of TMA.

Graham is married to the former Maude Boone of Junction. They have three sons and one daughter.

Dairyman's Courses

Annual Texas Dairyman's Short Course is scheduled for December 6-7 at Texas A & M College.

All meetings will be held in the Memorial Student Center and subjects of great importance to the state's dairy industry are up for consideration. All persons interested in the industry are invited to attend.

Hunting And Fishing

In 1955, 25,000,000 Americans fished and hunted and spent a healthy $3 billion in connection with their activities. In Texas 1,625,000 hunted or fished or did both and spent more than $165,000,000.

Hunting and fishing are big business, says Ed Cooper, extension specialist in wildlife conservation, and landowners can help the business by joining their friends and neighbors in wildlife conservation associations.

Dairy Farming Plans

Efficiently operated dairy farms are not the result of chance. On the contrary, says R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman, efficient dairy farming is developed through the careful planning and management of all phases of the operation.

Cattle Grub Danger

Larva of the heel fly, the cattle grub, is now appearing as a lump under the hide in the backs of dairy and beef cattle. Now is the time to control them.

United Fund, An Investment . . .

North Milam County is currently making its first United Fund Drive. Citizens of this section of the county should back this drive not only with their donation but also with words and actions toward making the drive a success.

Moneys collected will be allocated to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Heart Fund, Library Fund, local charities and operational expense of the United Fund. Boys and girls in their respective scouting organizations develop habits that will make them useful and good citizens for their entire life. One seldom reads news stories of criminal acts by persons who have had scout training.

Disasters occur when least expected. They cause damages of great extent not only to property but to life and limb of persons both rich and poor. Such damages can never be replaced to normal and can only be rectified at great expense. To many suffering such damages, such expense prevents normalcy from returning except from the aid of such agencies as the Salvation Army and the Red Cross.

Heart and cancer ailments are two of the major causes of death in our nation. Treatment and cure of both diseases are long and expensive. Many of those suffering from either cause could not get necessary treatment except by accepting funds from either the Heart Fund or the Cancer Fund.

Enjoyment, refinement and information of Cameron and of any community depends greatly upon the provision and maintenance of a good library. Our library depends upon contributions of the citizens for its maintenance and the acquisition of necessary reading matter in the stacks.

Hundreds of our north Milam County people benefit and profit from the United Fund and its many agencies. A donation to the Fund is an investment for the community, making it a better place to live in and to rear our children. So, when your time comes to write a check, be generous!

Back Future Cameron Citizens . . .

Cameron adults should without exception take advantage of the opportunity to witness as many of the Cameron basketball games as possible. The season is already underway and Yoe High School coaches indicate the local squad will be a top contender in the championship race of District 9-AAA.

While basketball is not as spectacular as football nor as large a drawing card as baseball, the Yoemen youths are representing the school and the community in each and every game they play. For this reason we should attend these games to show our youths, the coaches and the school faculty that we are interested in what they are doing, in their achievements and in their welfare. No other means comes close to doing these things as well as attending the games and cheering the Yoe teams.

Yoe High School students making the team put forth their every effort to make the game as appealing to spectators as is possible. Their efforts deserve a "pat on the back" and a word of praise when they win. They also deserve a word of encouragement when they lose for they are our future citizens.

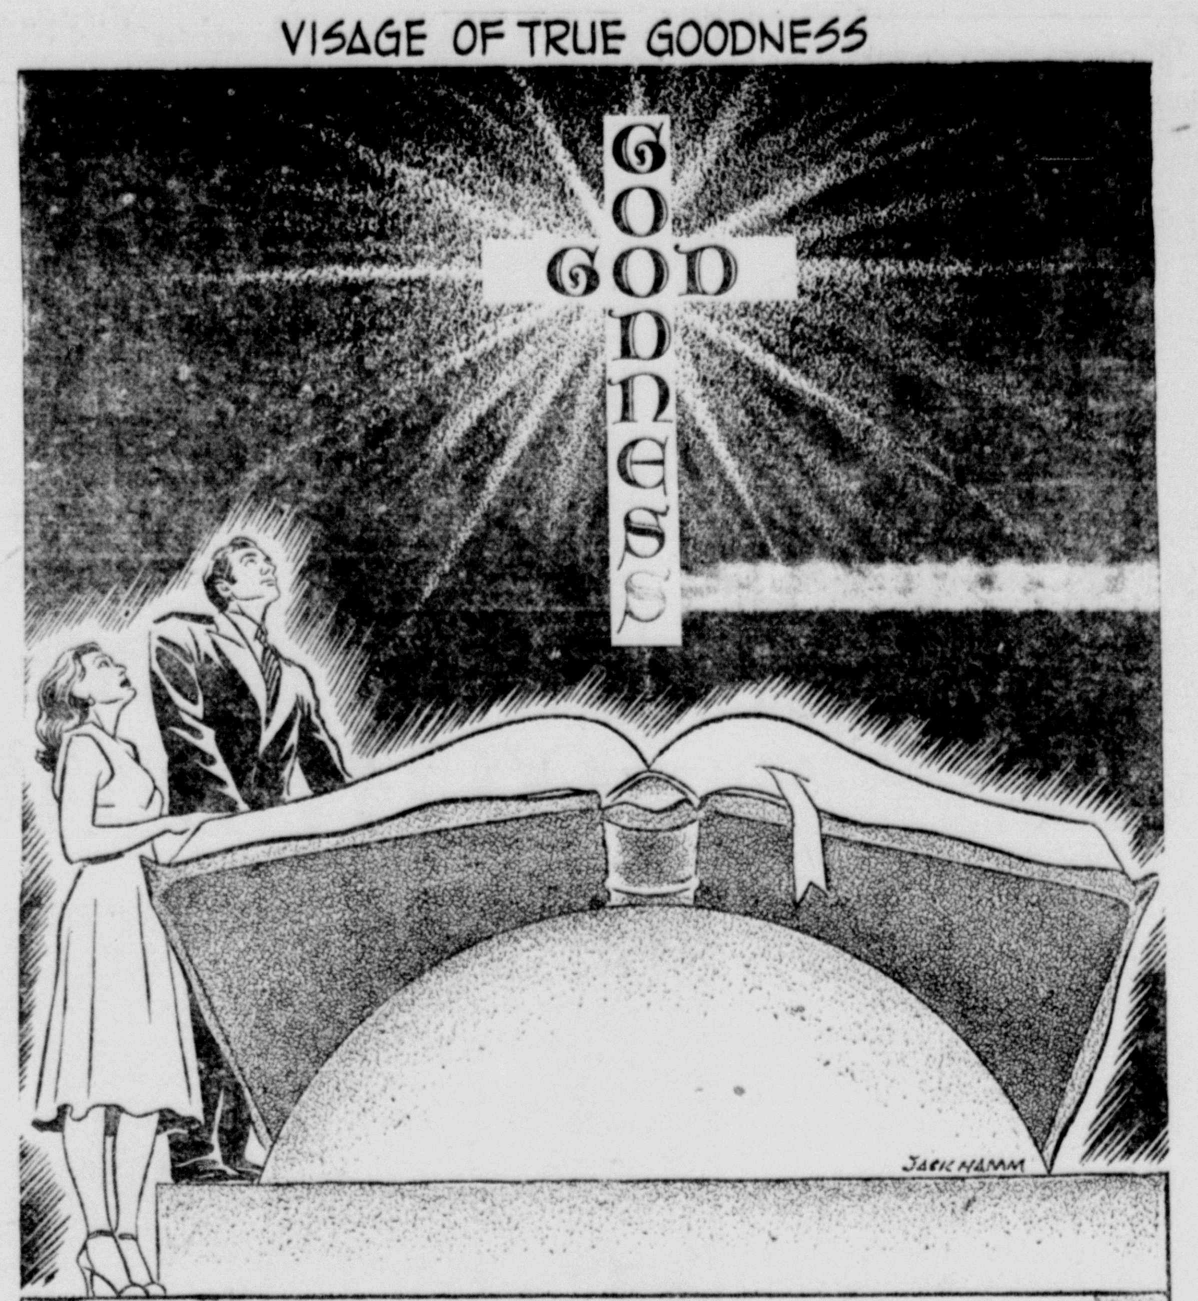
VISAGE OF TRUE GOODNESS



"THERE BE MANY THAT SAY, WHO WILL SHOW US ANY GOOD? LORD, LIFT THOU UP THE LIGHT OF THY COUNTENANCE UPON US." —PSALM 4:6

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER COMES OUT WITH A NEW IDEA TO PREVENT CITIES FROM PILING UP MORE DEBT

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River won't get anywhere with his idea this week, and we want it understood it is his idea, not ours.

Dear editar:

People are always talking about the national debt, how the country is spending more per year now than it did in all the time from George Washington to the turn of the century. but nobody, says much about the city debt.

Yet the other day I noticed in a copy of a newspaper which turned up in my mail box it was as easy as that, no hunting for it, no pulling it off a barbwire fence, that the debts of cities in the U.S. are now at an all-time high and going higher. That is, they would go higher if the cities could figure out how to do it.

Nearly any city or town you can name is strapped for more revenue, they all need more paved streets, the streets they've got need fixing, they need new water mains, or a new city hall or a new jail or a new fire truck or more clerks, and there's no end in sight for more spending.

But I have hit on an idea. I've noticed that there's a big controversy in lots of places over the right of a city to annex new territory. Some cities have taken in territory so fast it takes a permanent crew just to mark off the new city limits.

And I have been thinking. The bigger a city gets, the more money it's gonna take to operate it, and the harder-pressed its citizens are gonna be.

So, the only solution for the city people is for the country people to come to their rescue. If a city can annex the country, why can't the country annex the city? The only way to solve some big cities' problems is to return them to the country. As I understand it, all it takes in most cases for a city to take in more area is a vote of the country people only.

This is the only way I can see to save the city people from going further in debt, and the way it looks to me, Washington needs all the debt-capacity of the people, without having it chipped away by all the other cities in the 48 states.

If you think this idea has any merit, it'll surprise me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Texas Farmers Recommend Important Policy Changes

Texas' Farmers in convention in Houston in November, endorsed the principles of free enterprise and human freedom; right to work (without joining a union); states rights; no communist appeasement and last but not least, endorsed a prayer for world peace to be used by all farm groups.

President J. Walter Hammond, in a memorandum to the membership, pointed out that "it is our obligation as members to support policies duly established by majority opinions at the county, state and national levels." He stressed that the recommendations become policy only after they are concurred in by a majority at the national convention to be held this month.

Miscellaneous recommendations of the Farmers conference call for 1. Registration of names and amount of aid received by people getting state welfare as a matter of public record. 2. Opposition to compulsory re-alignment of county commissioners precincts on a population basis. 3. Oppose deficit spending by county commissioners or issuance of warrants without a vote of the taxpayers. Make mis-appropriation of bond retirement funds a penal offense.

Agricultural Agencies

WE RECOMMEND the local A.S.C. offices should use every effort to improve the service of measuring acreage in allotted crops. Rechecking and issuance of Marketing Cards should be done promptly in order that no grower will be penalized by delay.

WE RECOMMEND that organizations of farmers and ranchers in Texas, engaged agricultural production, financed and directed by same, should be recognized by their duly elected representatives as the spokesmen for agriculture.

RESEARCH IS VITAL to the economic future of agriculture. Farm families are today experiencing a cost-price squeeze. Our research program must be directed toward (1) expansion of markets by finding new uses for agricultural commodities and by promoting better nutrition; (2) lowering production and marketing costs; and (3) improving the quality of agricultural products. Such research must be directed toward the practical needs of farm families.

Agricultural Policies

Whereas the common practice of transfering cotton allotments from unproductive farms to remote productive farms and whereas this practice is opposed to the meaning and the spirit of the law, and has been made possible by failure of authorities to properly define a farm unit. The Farm Bureau requests the State A.S.C. Committee put in effect a regulation or rigidly enforce present regulations which will immediately stop future manipulations of cotton allotments, such as; transferring and or purchasing and transferring cotton allotments from one farm unit to another.

Flower Show Theme Is Christmas Cheer

"A Bit of Christmas Cheer" will be the theme of a flower show to be presented by the Rosebud Garden Club. The show is to be held at the D. Brown Library on Friday, December 7.

Included in displays at the show will be those depicting Christmas decorations, corsages, artistic arrangements, horticulture and Christmas tables.

Admission to the flower show is free and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Brucellosis Serious

Livestock raising, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, is a gamble at best, but herds infected with Brucellosis make the gamble even more risky.

Infected cattle produce less milk; calve a third less and up the cost of herd replacements by 30 percent to say nothing of the many other troubles which can come from Brucellosis. The disease has got to go, says Patterson, if the state's livestock industry is to continue making progress.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

It's a Whiz at Everything a car should do

It turns out that the 1957 Buick is far more than just a brand-new automobile.

It turns out that this new '57 Buick is winning the raves with a new kind of going and a new kind of stopping—a new kind of handling and a new kind of road sureness—a new kind of safety and a new kind of comfort.

We'll be specific.

When you press the pedal of a new '57 Buick, the response is literally instant . . .

Because the high-torque power of a new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine is delivered in the split of a second through a new full-range Variable Pitch Dynaflow that's immediate in its oil-smooth action.*

When you brake to a stop, you and the car stay on a level plane . . .

Because an ingenious new ball-joint suspension in every '57 Buick virtually ends the down-in-front dip that cars have on sudden stops.

When you take a turn or swing into an "S" curve, you still hug the road like a streamliner on rails—

Because under you is a massive wide-frame new chassis that "nests" the whole car inches closer to the road with the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet with no change in road clearance.

And when you sit in the deep comfort of those soft wide seats, you can drive with the pleasant ease of a clear conscience, without watching the speedometer . . .

Because only in Buick today can you have an ingenious new Safety-Minder that acts as a warning sentinel for the miles-per-hour you preset for yourself.*

There are many other new things that make this gorgeous Buick a car of limitless wonders—from the bigger and more rakish windshield that makes seeing more relieving, to the extra roominess that's so surprising in this beauty with the sports-car lowness.

But there's nothing like a firsthand sampling to know how modern the newest thing on wheels really is. Come in today for your meeting with the newest Buick yet.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.*
